ANYBODY KNOW 'EM?

An Associated Press despatch from Valparaiso, Ind., under date of Dec. 15, read:
"A Waco cabin plane carrying four men from Rockland, Me. to Cheyenne, Wyo., was stopped at Valparaiso today after officials of the Kingsbury Ordnance plant reported the ship had circled over the plant several times at low altitude.
"City police signaled the pilot down while he was over the Valparaiso airport and took him into custody. They reported the pilot, a pilot and two student fliers later produced credentials and were released. The party stayed here overnight. Names were not disclosed."

[EDITORIAL]

LET'S HAVE THE TRUTH!

Failure of the Army and Navy to be on the alert when Japanese bombers and submarines attacked Hawaii is responsible for the appointment of a five-man board to conduct an immediate investigation. President Roosevelt has named as the head of that board a justice of the U. S. Supreme Court, Owen J. Roberts. The amazing promptness with which Secretary Knox moved to Honolulu to obtain first hand information and the completeness of the report which has been given to the public offer every indication that there will be no governmental whitewashing.

That the Americans were caught completely unawares is the main point at issue. The Government expended vast sums to make the Pearl Harbor naval base the finest in existence, and apparently capable of resisting any normal attack which might be expected. But the Japanese broke into the situation with stunning suddenness and administered a whipping which startled the whole world. The only defense thus offered is that the attack was entirely unexpected; that no war had been declared, and that there was no reasonable expectation of such a stunning blow.

That the Americans acquitted themselves bravely is very gratifying, but a matter of comparatively small moment in view of the disastrous result of the attack. True, war had not been declared, but the whole world knew of its imminence, and the Pearl Harbor station, which might reasonably expect such a blow, was apparently off balance. Manifestly something was wrong, and something should be done to serve as a warning against a repetition of it. The character of the fine-man board which is to do the investigating is a guarantee that prompt results will be obtained and that a wholesome lesson will be taught. We have boasted of America's might; we must never again be caught asleep at the switch.

"SUICIDE" SUBMARINES

Japan's secret naval weapon seems to be a tiny submarine operated by two men—referred to as a "suicide" craft which can loose torpedoes or hurl itself at enemy ships with the same destructive effect of a torpedo. The Japanese seem to have a yen for suicides, and if this country conducts the sort of warfare it is expected to do, there should be a large increase of them.

THE CHRISTMAS RUSH

Admirable weather is aiding the Christmas shopping, and if one is to judge from the numbers of people and the number of bundles seen in the business section, it is going to be something like a record. Christmas in 1942 will be either a much happier one or much more sorrowful, so shop while you may—and make others glad.

WHAT SORT OF CENSORSHIP?

The United States is to have a strict censorship, and President Roosevelt has appointed the executive editor of the Associated Press as its director. Censorship is part and parcel of every war, and very proper or it would not come into being. But if it is the kind of censorship which will restrain the news of victories, it would seem to fall short of its purpose. Nothing succeeds like success, according to the old saw, and nothing could have a more cheerful effect upon the people, and the other fighting units, than news of a victory. The press agencies of the other countries will tell us quickly enough if it is a defeat.

SHOWDOWN IN LIBYA

From the nature of the latest communiques issued by the British command at Cairo, it is evident that the Army of the Nile and the new Eighth Army have at last brought Gen. Rommel's main Axis forces into what promises to be decisive action.

Driven from its best bases, its supplies diminished by the attrition of a month of actions of varying intensity, a sizeable portion of its manpower depleted through death or capture, the German-led army of Nazis and Italians has at last been forced to engage its opponents in an all-out contest.

It would be difficult to over-emphasize the importance of this action. Upon it turns the question whether Hitler will manage to retain a core around which to organize a new Axis army in North Africa through hasty shipment of troops via Italy and Spain, or whether the British, victorious, will at last find themselves in a position to begin the speedy drive west toward Tripoli and Tunis by which they would seek to block Hitler in all North Africa from the borders of Egypt to, ultimately, Dakar on the Atlantic Coast. Thus the safety of Suez, the riddle of the control of the Gibraltar Straits, and the high strategy of the two chief contestants in Europe and the whole Mediterranean Basin, are at issue.

THE LATEST WAR BULLETINS

The Army and Navy swept the ranking officers of the Hawaiian area from their commands last night because the Japanese attack at Pearl Harbor caught U. S. defense forces by surprise.

The Japanese and British are engaged in a desperate battle in the rice fields of the west coast of Malaya.

The British defenders of Hong Kong are replying to Japanese shelling.

The Americans have defeated the Japs in two battles in Northern Luzon.

The Senate votes today on the draft bill.

The Germans are expecting to withdraw 25 to 30 miles on the eastern front of Russia.

Hitler may move into Spain, preparatory to beginning a campaign against South America.

WE HAVE THE KICKAPOO AGAIN

The Coast Guard Cutter Kickapoo arrived in Rockland harbor and docked at her Tillson avenue berth about 5 o'clock last night. Hardly recognizable as the Kickapoo of old, she is painted a drab war gray, and has been rebuilt throughout for buoy service and lighthouse supply duty as well as her regular job of ice breaking. The forward houses have been cut back and buoy hatches installed as well as a mast and booms for the handling of the buoys.

When she arrived in the harbor, only her riding lights were visible, all other lights being blacked out. Three of the officers who were aboard last year are still attached to the boat: Chief Boatswain A. J. Brown is the commanding officer, Chief Boatswain Otto Bentz, the executive officer and Boatswain E. W. Ureffe, the gunnery officer.

Rockland Lions

Hear From Miss Steele Concerning the Public Nursing Service

Miss Eliza Steele, district health nurse, told the Rockland Lions Club yesterday of the advances which have been made in the work since she began keeping records here 12 years ago.

Last year 4500 calls were made, including 1500 actual nursing cases. This was a gain of 2000 calls since 12 years ago.

"But we might just as well close up shop, if it were not for the co-operation of the physicians, Miss Steele explained. "Our people are becoming more health minded, and the physicians are helping to educate them."

Miss Steele said that 12 years ago mothers were looking askance at the idea of giving their children cod liver oil and orange juice; thought it would upset them.

She told of a mother who laughed at her discussion as to children's diet.

"I had three children," she told Miss Steele, "and when they were one year old they sat up at our table and ate."

"Where are those children now?" asked Miss Steele.

"Two of them died in infancy," was the reply.

"Some mothers will say 'yes,' 'yes' when we talk to them about feeding their children," said Miss Steele and the minute our backs are turned they will do something else."

Ten years ago it would be whispered about that there was tuberculosis in the family, now the mothers want to know if their children have been exposed to it. Today when every case is reportable they welcome the opportunity to have a test made, and an X-ray examination which is comparatively free of charge.

A social hygienic clinic is held in Rockland once a week. Most patients do not know how serious their cases are. Every third month there is a clinic for crippled children. Oftentimes the children are hospitalized and no charge is made to the parents if they are unable to pay it.

"We are not getting anywhere in the matter of vaccinations," said Miss Steele, but of 1000 children in the schools 95 percent were inoculated against diphtheria.

"School work has advanced to such a stage that today there are very few epidemics. But one thing which has not advanced, and that is the matter of a school physician; we need one very much. We should also have a central social service agency, the cost of which would be around $1200. Such a system would avoid duplication of assistance."

Visiting Lions yesterday were Headley and Libby of Vinahaven and Berger of Camden-Rockport.

The meeting next Wednesday will see 25 underprivileged children dining with the Lions, and Rev. Ernest O. Kenyon the speaker.

A New Dragger

The Philip and Grace Was Launched At Thomaston This Morning

The dragger Philip and Grace, named for the owner, Philip Curcuro of Gloucester, Mass., and his wife, Mrs. Grace Curcuro, who was the sponsor, was launched at 10 o'clock this morning at the yards of the Morse Boatbuilding Company in Thomaston.

A large party of relatives and friends of the owners came from Gloucester for the launching and watched the craft slide into the water from the shed in which it was built.

The boat is the second to be launched this week from the Morse yards, the other being the Golden Eagle which was launched Tuesday for Larry McEwen of Gloucester. She is 95 feet six inches long and 20 feet in beam and is powered with a 300 horsepower Atlas diesel engine.

The Philip and Grace is the sixth boat to be launched this year by Wilbur Morse, the others being the John G. Murley, New Bedford; Harriet Eldredge, New Bedford; Baby Rose, Gloucester; Ben & Josephine, Gloucester and the Golden Eagle of Gloucester.

Capt. Salvatore Curcuro will command the boat which will be ready for sea in a short time.

The 9:40 Maine Central bus from Portland to Bangor last night broke down in front of the Narragansett Hotel and had to be towed to the railroad station where the passengers were transferred to spare bus used to transport workers from Rockland to the Bath Iron Works and the trip to Bangor was continued.

The Black Cat

(By The Roving Reporter)

Mrs. O. H. Cross of Camden writes: "I am sending our subscription to the best paper in the State. We feel such a sense of pride in a paper that is so clean and wholesome." Because of such letters The Courier-Gazette will work unceasingly to earn that praise.

this time of year. If you're lucky enough to find a mixed flock of Buntings and Longspurs, you will know the latter for their much darker plumage. They're somewhat smaller too. In flight the wings of the Longspur will show dark whereas the Buntings will show white with black tips.

Salaries and wages paid in the United States the present year will reach $60,000,000,000 or one-fifth larger than the previous year. The Income Tax Department will cast a greedy eye on this statement.

Fatalities have increased on Great Britain highways, largely due to "blackouts." And this, unfortunately is what may be expected in this country.

The advance guard of greetings for the Yuletide season have arrived from the lighthouse outposts—Frank B. Ingalls of Whitlocks Mill Light Station, Calais; and Mr. and Mrs. Justin A. Foss of Goat Island, Cape Porpoise.

Holland has the quaint custom of setting out the wooden shoes at Christmas time instead of hanging the stockings, as American and English children do. St. Nicholas makes his rounds on the horse Sleigher, and unless the shoes are in the chimney corner where he can see them, Sleigher will pass by and St. Nicholas will leave no gifts unless all the children are in bed and asleep.

The Salvation Army, whose "Sallies" are now tinkling their bells for Christmas alms, has three symbols—the flag of red, yellow and blue; the crest and the salute.

Words often misspelled: Chaplain (frequently without the "a"); sergeant (often without the "a").

One year ago: Alfred C. Hocking was appointed county commissioner to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Foy W. Brown.—Mrs. Lucia Ames, formerly of this city, died in Cape Cod.

Radio Amateurs

Are Offering Their Services To the Government With 2½ Meter Sets

The local radio amateurs are now banding together in a definite effort to assist the defense program through the agency of their stations. Upon the declaration of war, all amateur radio stations and operators were banned from the air by a federal order. Since that time, local operators have offered their services to the government in any way they could serve in the present emergency.

The present plan of nine local operators is to work in a 2½ meter network that will cover the city and tie in with the police department, and emergency units that can be equipped with the 2½ meter transmitters and receivers. A main station is being set up in the city building under the direction of George Simmons, and will be under the supervision of the Chief of Police for the transmission of messages to emergency vehicles in the field.

In this way, the police department may be in constant touch with the patrol car, which is to be equipped with the short wave set, and other portable sets can be placed in any other car being used for emergency duty and they can be directed from the police office.

Fire trucks may be equipped with sets so that they may be directed by Chief Russell from whatever position he may be in. The 2½ meter fill their hearts with courageous strivings for advancement and co-operation with each other, and other races.

They must be alert to win success, brave the snubs of other people, prove their prowess in high standards, as many have already done. And work together with too much pride for failure.

This book gives the American Negro more knowledge and courage, and points the methods to be used for personal advancement. To be successful they must know the way out of mental slavery by studious lives. The history and political scenes of our nation aim high and honor will come to those who seek.

sets have a range of 1½ to 2½ miles and would be strong enough to cover any section of the city from a central point.

At the present moment the entire plan is tentative and is subject to the approval of the Federal Communications Commission and the City Co-ordinator Mayor Edward R. Veazie; City Marshal Arthur D. Fish and Fire Chief Van E. Russell.

The radio amateurs are offering their services, transmitters and receivers without charge in an effort to aid the emergency services of the city. Those who have made application through the Federal Communications Commission at Washington for the net are the operators and stations listed in the following letter which was forwarded from the office of the City Marshal:

Dec. 17, 1941

Children Injured

When School Bus Was Demolished On the Outskirts Of Warren

Three children were slightly injured this morning at 8 o'clock when a school bus operated by Charles Saunders was in collision with a poultry truck driven by Leslie Smith of Belfast, the accident occurring at the junction of North Pond road and Route 1 in Warren.

The bus was proceeding along Route 1 and was about to turn into North Pond road when the truck, apparently unable to stop, struck it broadside.

The children on the bus were from the West Warren and Goshen District. Those injured were treated by a physician in Warren and taken to their homes.

The bus was demolished and the truck overturned in a ditch.

Destroyed By Fire

Representative Sleeper's Summer Home At Spruce Head Island Total Loss

A call to the Fire Department at 7:05 last night took it to Spruce Head Island where the cottage, known as the old stone house, and owned by Cleveland Sleeper Jr., was destroyed by fire which started from an unknown cause.

Mr. Sleeper remodeled the building, which was built up to the eaves of heavy granite blocking and had been used in the past as a dwelling and an office building for the Bodwell Granite Company which operated on Spruce Head Island, rebuilding the top story and interior as a summer home, first occupying it in the summer of 1939.

The building and furnishings are a total loss, the value of which has not been estimated.

Chief Russell and 10 men with divers Phillips and Smith answered the call with the Mack pumper, returning at 10 o'clock.

All about the railroads. That's the call for tonight at the Baptist Men's League. And a glorious time is promised.

Due to the coming winter, the craft will be constructed in the big boat shed and will be launched some time in April and will be ready for the Monhegan to Thomaston mail run early in May. She will be powered with a 125 horsepower Fairbanks-Morse diesel engine.

The Weather

Fall is drawing to its official close, and using its very handsomely. A glance at my two almanacs fails to reveal anything very startling in the way of information. The Maine
Farmer's informs us that the moon in perigee and the Old Farmers intimates that there will be skating in many places from now on until the 23d. Wouldn't it be surprising if there was some more skating before the winter closes. Twenty above this morning, and azure skies.
War censorship may hit this department any moment.

Richard McIntosh played host to friends Monday night when he entertained in honor of his 11th birthday at the home of his parents on Limerock street. Games were played. The most hilarious proved to be pinning on the horse's head. Prizewinners were: Dick Pease, Rusty Sleeper, Carlyle Brown, John LaGiacca and Dick Hutchinson. The boys were apparently in their glory when time came for the party table. They were served an attractive birthday cake made by Richard's mother; also punch, candy and peanuts. They all very promptly voted on Dick's becoming an "old back" when he blew all his cake candles out with one puff. Other bidden guests were Billy Wood, Conrad Brown, Richard Ludwig and Robert McIntosh. Richard's friends remembered him with very nice gifts.

CLARK-BIDEZ NUPTIALS

Miss Miriam Bidez, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eagle Felton Bidez, and Lieut. Lloyd Elbridge Clark, Jr., were married quietly at 3 o'clock this afternoon at Wesley Monumental Methodist Church with the Rev. A. W. Rees officiating in the presence of the family and a few close friends.

The altar was simply decorated with palms and large white chrysanthemums.

The bride, who was unattended, was given in marriage by her father. She wore a lovely dress of a soft pastel blue, the bodice, embroidered in silver, having a long waistline to which the full skirt was gathered. Her hat was a small model of black felt and her slippers and accessories were black. She wore a corsage of orchids.

Lieut. Gordon Parks of Rochester, N. Y., was Lieut. Clark's best man.

Mrs. Bidez, the bride's mother, was gowned in black crepe, the only trimming being turquoise buttons, which fastened the bodice in front and were repeated on the belt. Her flowers were a corsage of yellow roses.—Evening Press, Dec. 13.

The bridegroom is a son of Lloyd E. Clark, Sr., a Rockland florist.

Christmas Party

And How It Was Observed By the Congregational Church School

Wednesday, was Christmas Party Day for the members of the Rockland Congregational Church School. At 3:30 p. m. the Primary Department had their Christmas program around a beautifully decorated tree in the vestry, the children receiving presents suitable to their age.

Christmas Carols were sung and refreshments were served. In the evening the members of the Junior, Intermediate and Senior Departments met around the tree and put on their own Christmas program. Tom Perry led the singing of the carols with Albert Haver at the piano. Miss Ruth Emery was mistress of ceremonies. Christmas readings and recitations were given by several of the young people. Mr. Welker read the Bible story and Mrs. P. C. Galtcomb told the main Christmas story of the evening, a true story to today.

Santa Claus appeared on the scene, distributing presents and joy and happiness to every one. The superintendent of the Church School, Miss Relief Nichols and her corps of teachers, namely Mr. Blais-dell, Mrs. Walter Anderson, Mr. Crozier, Mr. Higgins, Mrs. Pomroy, Mrs. Virginia Kimesh, Barbara Lamb, Nancy Howard, Molly Welker, Grace Bowley, Polly Spear, and Barbara Wood, received congratulatory gifts from the Church School committee in appreciation of a most successful first quarter. The sponsors of Santa Claus were Alvin Ramsdell, Henry Bird, Kennedy Crane, Horatio Cowan, Elmo Crozier and Mrs. Donald Fuller, chairman of the Church School committee.

At the close of each party, announcement was made of the White Christmas offering for the needy of the community to be made by the children of the Church School the Church Christmas Service next Sunday morning. Each child will bring a gift of food or clothing, canned goods, jellies, toys, wrapped in white paper and tied with white, red or green ribbons or twine; each class will present its members' gifts in one basket as an offering before the church.

YPCU members who are going caroling Sunday night, Dec. 21 will meet at the Universalist Church at 6:30. They are going in cars and will return to the church afterwards.

Speaking of raw materials, when they are spelled the other way they cost a lot more.

John Kemble was once performing one of his favorite parts at some country theatre, and was interrupted from time to time by the crying of a child in the gallery, until at length, annoyed by this rival performance, Kemble walked with solemn step to the front of the stage, and addressing the audience in his most tragic tones, said: "Ladies and gentlemen, unless the play is stopped, the child cannot possibly go on."

Are You . . . ?

Are you sometimes looked upon as a trifle weak-minded because you are an outstanding lover of animals—champion of their rights against man's cruelties? If so you are in excellent company—of kindred spirit with men like Carlyle, Jowett, Milton, Tennyson, Manning, Martineau, Browning, Alfred Russell Wallace, Victor Hugo, Henry Irving, John Ruskin, Dickens, Galsworthy, Henry Bergh, George T. Angell, Phillips Brooks.

Victor Booth of the Royal Academy of Music of London once said in a lecture, "Music is the idealization of the natural language of the emotions, something imbued with spiritual nature. Harmony involves constant application of thought in union with appreciation of sound." There is little of this in jazz and that ilk.

Bitter substances are tasted with the back of the tongue and the sour and salty substances with the front and sides. Sweets are with the tip of the tongue. Now think of that.

Plans are almost complete for establishing a silk industry in Uruguay, so it will be easier to get silk and sooner.

Amherst did well to pay Captain Gannard of the good ship, City of Flint, honor in an award of Master of Arts on Homecoming Day recently.

Listen! Pause! Take a long even breath. The Tailors Guild is considering a proposal to abolish cuffs on men's trousers. The reason for this, it is said, is that they are wasteful and unsanitary. Now think of that after all these years. Why, they have always helped women as crumb catchers.

Nazi submarine commanders did their best to convince the United States that this country could not be neutral.

Last year the nation produced half a million slide fasteners or what are general called zippers, and they do help when haste is needed.

Today, the hard-working honey bee is so common in America that it is difficult to believe that once there were no honey bees on this continent. The honey bee was imported by early American colonists. It is said that the Indians were amazed by the honey bee and felt that white men must be indeed wonderful beings "when they could put flies to work for them!"

Long Wait

A department store recently put in escalators. A young attendant noticing that a woman shopper had waited some time by the device, walked up to her and said, "May I be of service to you, madam?" "No, thank you," was her reply, "I am going to the basement and was just waiting for the steps to reverse."

First Aid Teachers

Chairman Rice of Knox County Red Cross Tells of a Bad Situation

There is an unsatisfactory number and distribution of First Aid Teachers in Knox County. The situation is worse when we reckon up the number of men and women who have been trained to give First Aid to the injured. Very many of our school teachers would be quite unable to care for hurts to the children for whom they are responsible.

The Knox County Red Cross has worked out a master plan to correct this bad situation once and for all. A class will be formed about January 1st, in Rockland, the county seat, to give the necessary preliminary training to candidate instructors from over the County. These men and women must take 30 hours of training in Standard and Advanced First Aid. They will then be ready for the visit of the Red Cross Field Representative early in March, and he will make instructors of them by 15 hours work. It is therefore requested that the Mayor, Manager, or Chief Selectman submit as soon as may be the names of candidate instructors as follows:

One School Teacher for each nine rooms, or one school teacher per separate building, or anyway not less than one per town. If teachers are instructors already, or have taken all or part of the course, this fact may be allowed for, provided such teachers will bind themselves to become instructors in March.

One candidate instructor per township, to instruct the Women Wardens.

One candidate instructor per township, to instruct the Men Wardens and Rescue Groups.

Candidates should be selected for force, intelligence, ability to teach, and physical alertness. Consult Red Cross First Aid Committee people.

Note should be made of preferences as to times classes are to be held. Attempt will be made to consult the convenience of the students. No doubt, attendance at these Courses will mean trouble and expense to the students. On the other hand, Hitler, Mussolini and Tojo care nothing about the trouble to which we are put, and would view hurt to our women and children with devilish glee. In this prospect, the Islands are right under the guns.

Local Red Cross funds are raised for the very purpose of meeting such expenses. Hospitality may be secured through Civil Defense Registration. Townships should see the seriousness of all this, and put this work of mercy and safety first above all.

This represents the best effort of the Red Cross to provide a most needed protection. Townships which fail to take part will be given First Aid training as best we can, but we cannot take blame for long delays or even failure.

Kern ap Rice, Capt. U. S. A., Retired, Chairman.

Red Cross War Fund

Rocklands' Quota Starts With An Anonymous Gift Of $100

The Red Cross War Fund Committee, of which Frederic H. Bird is chairman met last night in the Red Cross rooms with a heartening attendance.

The subject under discussion of course, was how Rockland should raise its quota, which has been started with $100 from an anonymous giver.

Chairman Bird had provided himself with what appeared to be a very complete list of Rockland's clubs, social, fraternal and patriotic and going over this list with the committee, plans were made to contact each.

Postmaster James Connellan will make an appeal in Strand Theatre on New Year's Eve and the following Sunday night.

Information was received at the Red Cross office that the Finnish people of Knox County have bound themselves to raise the sum of $300 for the Red Cross war fund. This action on their part was entirely voluntary.

The Italian residents of the city, who reflect the sentiments, contained in Thomas Anastasio's letter, published in Tuesday's issue of this paper, will be contacted, and excellent results are expected from these people, who were so loyally devoted to the Allied cause in the first World War.

The members of the Red Cross War Fund Committee are: Frederic H. Bird, chairman; Lendon C. Jackson, Jr., treasurer; Emil Rivers, Thomas C. Stone, Laurence Miller, Arthur L. Orne, Dr. Lloyd Richardson, F. A. Winslow, James Connellan, Robert Gregory, Mrs. Stella Linckin, Mrs. Martha Senter, Mrs. Corice Leach, Miss Charlotte Buffum, Mrs. Helen Lamb, Mrs. Gregory Wynne, and Mrs. Ida Dondis. Capt. Kern ap Rice, Knox County chairman was present and offered some excellent suggestions.

The third grade of Elm Street School will present a play the last of this week entitled "Just Before Christmas;" the fourth grade, "Christmas Fairy and Scrooge;" and the fifth grade, "Strike in Santa Claus Land." George Nash, William Nash and Robert Burrage are new students in the fourth grade.

Mrs. Alice Rich and her daughter Helen were hostesses Tuesday to the Good Cheer Class. There were 21 present and the business meeting was conducted by President Jocelyn Christie. Following this, packages were wrapped and tagged to be given away by the Class. The dining table was attractively decorated with a centerpiece of Christmas balls, large red candles and red lights and the refreshments were served buffet style with Mrs. Rich presiding. Carols were enjoyed as well as a pleasing program of vocal selections by Miss Phyllis Arnold with Mrs. Vira Thomas as accompanist. Miss Corinne Sawyer and Mrs. Noama Mayhew assisted the hostesses.

The stores will be open evenings until Christmas with the exception of the markets and grocery stores.

Former Camden Girl Figures In New Unit At Panama Canal

The appended clipping from a Panama newspaper will be read with interest hereabout due to the fact that Mrs. Raymond Hills is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orrington Cross of Camden, and has lived on the Isthmus 10 years. She is a registered nurse and now has put on her uniform after several years' ill health.

The Panama newspaper said: "A new Hospital Recreational Service Unit has been formed on the Atlantic side of the Isthmus. The Hospital Unit was organized by the Cristobal Women's Club with Mrs. E. S. Parks as chairman, and Mrs. C. H. Clark as vice-chairman. At the present time the unit is functioning with Mrs. Clark as acting chairman and Mrs. Raymond Hills as assisting vice-chairman."

One of the most interesting features of this new service is the allocation of magazines to the entire Colon Hospital, the Army hospitals, and to the Chaplains of every post. Arrangements have been made to present Christmas gifts to enlisted men and the contractors who will have to spend their holidays in the hospitals. In addition to this, packages are to be made up for men and women in the silver wards, and Christmas carollers will wend their way through the various corridors on Christmas Eve, bringing cheer to

What You Must Pay

Income Tax Will Be Due On March 15—Have You Consulted List

To The Readers—"Through our representatives in Congress we have decided upon an 'all out' defense program. We have also expressed our preference for paying as much as possible of the cost of defense out of current earnings."

Your Government, therefore, is anxious that each taxpayer know as promptly as possible what his those to whom cheer will be most welcome. A large Christmas tree will be provided to bring additional festivity to the occasion. This newly organized Recreational Service Unit of the American Red Cross on the Atlantic side works separately from the Production Unit, and while it has been organized and is being handled by the Women's Club of Cristobal, the co-operation of the entire community is invited. All those desirous of aiding the work, either through contributions of money or gifts for the Christmas program, or as volunteer workers in the distribution of magazines and other services should telephone Mrs. E. S. Parks, 3-1578, Mrs. C. H. Clark, 3-1677, or Mrs. Raymond Hills, France Field 168. Atlantic side residents should be proud of this addition to their American Red Cross endeavor and the cooperation of the entire community is earnestly desired.

Income tax bill will be. As a service to the taxpayers, I have had prepared the attached tables showing what you will have to pay in the coming year and how much of your monthly income you should set aside regularly for tax payments.

Tax Savings Notes are now being sold by the Treasury because thousands of citizens asked for a plan to enable them to save money systematically and conveniently for this purpose. When you examine the attached tables you will, I think, see the usefulness of these Treasury Notes in helping you to meet your own tax payments next year. I am sure that your neighborhood bank or savings and loan association will be glad to help you start such a savings program. If you wish any additional information, I shall be glad to have you write to me at the Treasury Department, Washington, D. C.

The Saving Of Fuel

Here Are Some Rules Which Home Owners May Easily Follow

Home owners can effect substantial savings in fuel costs by following a few simple rules in the operation of coal burning furnaces, Miss Harriet Elliott, Associate Administrator of the Office of Price Administration and head of the Consumer Division, said today.

Householders are notorious coal-wasters, heating men report, principally because they haven't kept up with the latest techniques in furnace operation. Wastage of coal amounts in extreme cases to one ton out of every three consumed. For instance, many misguided shovellers cover their burning coal completely when adding new fuel. They shouldn't. Coal should be added this way:

1. Set dampers so that coal is burning brightly.
2. Add new fuel in one section of the firebed.
3. Leave a "bright spot" of glowing coals exposed on the surface to ignite gases given off by the new fuel.
4. Leave the exposed "bright spot" at the left, right, front or back of the firebox on successive firings to keep the top of the firebed reasonable level.

If the firebox isn't big enough to add sufficient coal in this manner, burning coal may be piled up on the sides of the firebox and new coal added in the crater. Take care to disturb the firebed as little as possible.

Another great American furnace room superstition is that a little coal in the firebox goes a longer way than a lot of coal. It doesn't. By keeping a five-inch thick fuel bed, and by bringing the level of coal right up to the firing door, householders will save the most fuel, providing they use the dampers properly.

The experts lay down these broad rules as a starting point:

1. Set the turn damper (also called the "butterfly" or "plate" damper) to a position giving the most obstruction to the hot air going up the chimney consistent with the maximum amount of heat needed upstairs.
2. Regulate the furnace or boiler between banked position and full steam ahead by moving the check damper and ashpit damper. (The check damper should be open when the ashpit damper is closed, and vice-versa.)
3. Firing door slots usually should be open after adding fuel, as long as the flames are swirling high above the fuel bed, and closed when the small, peaked flames appear. Never open the firing door to bank the fire. That wastes fuel. If the fire won't bank properly, use smaller-sized coal, or keep a thicker layer of ashes on the grate. Shake the grate less frequently to permit the ashes to accumulate on them. If this fails to hold the fire, have furnace or boiler checked for leaks and smokepipe checked with a draft gauge.
4. Proper maintenance of boilers or furnaces will save coal. Flues and heating surfaces should be kept clean with a wire brush, boiler water free of rust and scale, which permit air to leak into the furnace or boiler sealed with furnace cement. Dampers, grates or doors that are defective should be replaced.
5. In many furnaces, use of the smaller-size domestic coals will result in fuel economy. These burn more slowly, therefore less heat goes up the chimney. They are particularly good for banking a fire, or may be used in combination with larger sizes if hotter fires are needed.

"Be More Comfortable and Save"

Maine's 1941 blueberry pack broke all records in crop production and purchase of berries, according to Charles M. White, Chief, Division of Markets.

The total pack this year amounted to 561,875 cases, as compared to the previous "all time high" of 434,446 cases in 1937, White said. He declared that the total purchase of berries in 1941 was 404,439 bushels, representing an increase of 35,569 bushels over the 1930 "record" volume of 368,861 bushels.

White attributed the tremendous increase in blueberry operations in Maine to the active demand for canned berries for distribution by commercial bakers and the inability of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia to ship frozen berries to the United States on account of war conditions.

"These two factors were responsible for the establishment of good price for the blueberry output," White stated, "and provided an incentive for the producers to rake their crop with undue care."

Maine Farmers received a "neat" cash income of $1,095,000 from this year's blueberry crop, with the price of $3.05 per bushel comparing "favorably" with the 1926 record price of 3.61 per bushel, White said.

He revealed that, with war conditions affecting transportation operations from the Canadian provinces, the amount of berries frozen in Maine this year jumped to a new high of 1,336,849 pounds, which exceeded the largest previous quantity in 1937 by 240,369 pounds.

White declared that information at the present time indicated that practically all of the 1941 blueberry pack in Maine is either shipped or sold.

The Memory Man

Tells How Igloo Was Invaded By Fascinating Creature Who Made Sound Recordings

(By Irvn Member)

A tornado in Maine? Yep, part blonde, part brunette and part nervous tension. She blazed into Maine more like a shooting star than anything I can think of. She traveled so fast that she could hit only a few of the high spots and, so far as the inmates of the Igloo are concerned, she left a perplexed feeling of unreality, sort of a perturbed dream of a very lovely cyclone.

We are rather sedate here on the Hill Top and have to take time to think things out—sort of sit around and talk until our slow working wits can be acclimated to such critters as tornadoes and cyclones. That is just about what happened to us when Mrs. Charles Linscott, of Needham, Mass., descended on us on Sunday morning recently.

I had just finished the morning chores and breakfast when, wham, in she blew! We did catch a fleeting glimpse of our caller as she came from her car and said something about making some phonograph records and that S. E. Welt of Rockland had told her to come and—here she was.

From then on things happened. She rushed out to the car and brought in a recording machine, set it on the floor out in the sun-porch, hooked some wires to it, rushed out to the car and hooked wires on a big battery, rushed in again, shoved me out where the machine was, placed my wife at the piano—about 15 feet away in the living room—gave me a smile that no human could resist and told me to play "Devil's Dream". I braced both feet, went into a sort of trance and began sawing the old bow across the strings and the Devil began having, not a dream but a full grown nightmare. After going through it once I faltered and stopped. I was still in a dark brown daze when my beautiful tormenter hissed "Now, play a hornpipe, 'Hull's Victory', quick" and I was off again, playing like mad under the spell of our enchantress.

Play, call a dance, play a quadrille, Boston Fanny, Lady of the Lake, play, play, play! I couldn't hear the accompaniment my wife was playing and she couldn't hear me—she might as well have been in Honolulu for all the good her playing was—too far away to record anything except a muffled, droning noise on the machine. I knew better than to carry on as we were doing but what can a feller do but plunge on and on when he is ordered to by such a fascinating female? And so it went, one tune after another until we broke the machine! The darn thing collapsed under the terrific bombardment we gave it and gave up the ghost!

Satisfied? Not she. There were other numbers the lady wanted, and she hiked to Bangor to have the machine repaired—after we enjoyed with her a good dinner. After she had gone we said, "Well, she will never come again," but early Monday morning she did return and made a record of an old song my wife sang for her. Also a song by our young daughter with guitar accompaniment and then she drove like mad for Dexter where she was to record some fiddling by somebody and songs by Maine lumbermen. Whew! what a girl, what a girl! "Off again, on again, away again, Fiddling." Talk about a Mexican jumping bean!

Yes, she "played back" several of the records we made. The vocal numbers were very good, but if my fiddle playing ever sounded one-half as bad as it sounded on those records I wonder how I ever had the nerve to play for the public for 30 years and charge for it!

Mrs. Linscott says that going hither and yon to record old tunes and songs is her "hobby." She is a most charming lady in any event and she will be welcome in our Igloo any time she cares to come again.

Determination? Yes, she has scads of it. She spent 12 years gathering material for a book dealing with "Old Folk Songs" which contains some ancient words and melodies never before presented in book form. She showed us a copy. I should want plenty of time were I to attempt to explore its pages. It is too large a book to digest over night.

I insisted that she send me a photo to be printed together with this sketch. She gave me no data to work from but I hope what I have written will be of interest to you who read my sketches.

It was a new experience for us at the Igloo and a most pleasant one, but if a lovely female ever comes here to make records again I shall take her by the shoulders and make her sit down until we can test out the right distances for the instruments and take a little time to select and time some music before we record anything—hobby or no hobby. I believe that Mrs. Linscott will be sorry that she recorded at the Igloo—when her records are finally developed—same as we are.

The idea of getting records of old time tunes and songs before the old timers die and take all trace of many good songs and tunes with them is a good one, but time should be taken to classify, try over and record those wanted in as perfect a manner as possible. "Anything worth doing is worth doing well." Mrs. Linscott probably did her part well but the performers here at the Igloo did very poorly.
